Steels Engineering Services Ltd is a RoSPA GOLD AWARD WINNER

Steels Engineering Services Ltd, is celebrating winning one of the prestigious RoSPA Occupational Health and Safety Awards in 2010. This is the second successive year that the company has achieved this status.

The Gold award will be presented at a ceremony at the Hilton Birmingham Metropole Hotel, at the National Exhibition Centre, on Wednesday May 12th. The ceremony will take place alongside Safety & Health Expo 2010, Europe's leading annual health and safety exhibition.

The RoSPA Awards scheme is not only about reducing the number of accidents and cases of ill-health at work; it also encourages organisations to develop robust health and safety management systems.

David Rawlins, RoSPA's awards manager, said: "Steels Engineering Services Ltd has shown a commitment to protecting the health and well-being of its employees and others. Organisations which do this deserve to have such dedication recognised and that's where the RoSPA Awards come in.

"As well as there being clear ethical reasons and legal requirements for good health and safety management, there is also a strong business case. RoSPA is delighted to publicly honour organisations which have demonstrated their work to improve performance in this sphere."

Tony Goodenough Managing Director of Steels Engineering Services said

"We are very pleased to have been nominated by RoSPA to once again receive this Gold Award, as specialists in the Nuclear Projects Industry our Safety Culture is an important asset in our business".

The RoSPA Occupational Health and Safety Awards 2010 are sponsored by NEBOSH (The National Examination Board in Occupational Safety and Health), the leading health and safety professional examining body.
